Towed Yacht For Repairs In Durban

LONE yachtsman Simon Holmes A'Court (28), whose yacht was towed into Durban last week-end, plans to repair it in a Durban boat-building yard.

He has been offered the full use and facilities of Fred Nicolls (Pty.) Ltd. boat-builders, by Mr. Jimmy Whittle, a well-known Durban yachtsman and businessman. Mr. Whittle is a director of the boatbuilding firm.

SAW AGENTS

Yesterday, Mr. Holmes A' Court called on the agents of the French tanker Ville de Lyon, which towed him part of the way to Durban after he had been found drifting off the Transkei coast.

They told him they had not been told what steps to take about towing and loss of time fees, but would let him know in due course. He is hopeful of being let off paying the fees.

Mr. A' Court plans to cruise Mozambique waters diving and taking underwater photographs.

Mis mother, Mrs. Ethnee Holmes A' Court, said yesterday that the people of Durban had been very kind to both her and her son.
